OVERVIEW

The City of California City has assembled this material in order to assist in the processing of all planning applications and tentative, parcel and final maps for subdivisions within the city. The development process in California City includes the steps described in the attached Description of Application Process:

Conceptual Review:

Conceptual review is referred to as Development Review Committee (DRC) or site plan approval. Applicants must complete the conceptual review checklist and return it with the completed application form, environmental checklist form, initial study, backup material requested, such as, developer drawings, plans and applicable fees. Equally important, is the need for title reports and biota studies. Biota studies are required for all newly constructed projects on raw land. Existing structures do not require a biota study. Additional CEQA fees may apply and consultation with Fish and Game and Fish and Wildlife Service may also be necessary.

Conceptual review fees for DRC and site plan is $750.00. Additional fees may be required, if the project needs other permits. An example of this would be if a project requires conceptual review prior to applying for a conditional use permit, zone change/general plan amendment, annexation/detachment or a variance, a Kern County document handling fee may apply and CEQA fees.

Projects that must go through conceptual review are:

- 1) All commercial and industrial projects involving new construction, extensive modification to an existing structure, or if the proposed business is new to the building.
- 2) A large apartment complex, involving four (4) or more units. Two (2) duplexes on the same lot qualifies as four (4) units and requires conceptual review.
- 3) Other examples of projects requiring conceptual review are subdivisions consisting of parcel map or tract map and amendments to these maps.

Amendments that considerably change the scope of what was originally approved. These subdivisions have checklists for both the tentative map and final map process in the application packet. Tentative maps are reviewed and approved by the Planning Commission at a public hearing. Final maps require the filing of an application with the Planning Technician and payment of a fee, before the final map is sent to Council. Final maps require only City Council approval and are scheduled when the City Engineer deems the map is complete and coordinates with the Planning Technician that all final map fees have been paid. A Kern County document handling fee may apply and CEQA fees.

4) A conditional use permit must go through conceptual review, Planning Commission approval at a public hearing. The fee for a conditional use permit is $750.00 plus $20.00 per lot. A Kern County document handling fee may apply to file a CEQA exemption notice.

5) A zone change requires conceptual review, Planning Commission approval at a public hearing. The fee for a zone change is $750.00 plus $20.00 per lot. A Kern County document handling fee applies and CEQA fees.

6) A general plan amendment must go through conceptual review, Planning Commission approval at a public hearing. The fee for a general plan amendment is $1,000.00. A Kern County document handling fee applies and CEQA fees.

5) Annexation/detachment and zone change/general plan amendment must go through conceptual review, Planning Commission and City Council approval at public hearings. The fee for an annexation/detachment is $20,000.00. A Kern County document handling fee applies and CEQA fees.

Projects that do not require conceptual review are:

1) Lot line adjustment, parcel map waiver, lot merger, unmerger, certificate of compliance, film permit, variance, and large day care. A certificate of compliance is typically filed with a parcel map waiver, lot merger, lot unmerger or lot line adjustment. On occasion, an owner will file for a certificate of compliance as a "stand alone" document, when a parcel was created without using one of the acceptable processes recognized by the Subdivision Map Act; being a parcel map, tract map or a parcel map waiver. A Kern County document handling fee applies to file CEQA exemption notice. See sample on next page for Lot Merger, Lot Line A djustment, U nmerger, and Parcel M ap W aiver for bef ore m ap, aft er m ap, and m etes and bou nds, t his m ust be included and stamped by a registered licensed civil engineer.

SAMPLE OF HOW TO PREPARE BEFORE, AFTER, METES AND BOUNDS

AND the registered licensed civil engineer must stamp the document.

b) SAMPLE AFTER MAP: Shows the lot as it exists after
AND the registered licensed civil engineer must stamp the document.

c) METES AND BOUNDS: The Registered Licensed Civil Engineer will prepare a new metes and bounds description for the newly merged lots or adjusted lot line. The old description of the lots are no longer valid AND the registered licensed civil engineer must stamp the document.

d) These three documents must be returned with the completed application packet.

2) A variance is approved by the City Manager/Planning Director. However, the process does require an application be filed, backup material be provided and payment of a fee. A minor variance is $100.00. The City Manager/Planning Director may require a conceptual review and approval by the Planning Commission. The regular DRC fee of $750.00 would apply. Depending on the nature of the variance and if the Planning Commission must review at a public hearing, the standard variance fee of $750.00, plus $20.00 per lot also applies and is in addition to the DRC fee. A Kern County document handling fee applies to file CEQA exemption notice.

Questions regarding this process may be directed to the Planning Technician. See the phone list provided below with other useful contact names and phone numbers.

Email your request to Planning2@CaliforniaCity.com and the Planning Department will forward the requested applications, informational guides, maps or publications to you in a return email as an attached pdf file. Description of Application Process

Pre-application Conference

Prior to preparing any plans to the City for review, contact should be made with the Planning Technician to discuss the proposed development. This step will insure that all applicants are familiar with the zoning, land development regulations in the City, and application requirements, as well as other issues that may relate to the specific development proposal, including CEQA requirements.

Concept Plan Review (DRC or Site Plan)

A Concept Plan, with a complete Concept Plan Review Application must be submitted to the Planning Technician. A complete application will contain all items on the attached concept plan checklist.

Complete applications will be scheduled for a conference with the Development Review Committee. The DRC Conference is intended to provide guidance to developers in getting map applications approved. At the DRC determinations will be made regarding initial CEQA requirements.

The City Planning Commission may review the concept plan for the entire project at the discretion of the Planning Director, or, at the request of the applicant.

Concept plans will be placed on Planning Commission agendas only after a DRC conference has taken place and a completed application and fees have been submitted to the City.

At the discretion of the Planning Director the Planning Commission may review the concept plan and may offer opinions, suggestions, comments and any other input they feel is appropriate. Commission comments are not binding and are intended only to benefit the developer as they prepare Tentative Map applications.

Any concept plan must be acted upon within 120 days. After that time the concept plan will require a re-review.

Tentative Plan Review

After the DRC and/or Planning Commission makes any suggestions or changes to the concept plan, a tentative subdivision/parcel map for the project may be prepared. Maps must be prepared by an engineer or land surveyor and must contain their stamp.

The plans are again reviewed by the Development Review Committee. A DRC report will be prepared advising the developer of any required changes which must be made. The report will also outline suggested changes, which may be made to improve the project.

When any required changes have been made and re-submitted to the Planning Department they will be reviewed by the Director of Public Works, City Engineer and Planning Director. If satisfactory the project will be placed on the Planning Commission Agenda.

As required, the Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on the tentative map. This hearing is scheduled in accordance with the attached Planning Commission calendar after the submittal is deemed to be complete. The Planning Technician will notify affected property owners within 300 feet.

Applicants will receive a written report of conditions of approval from the Planning Director, which will be required to be met prior to recording of the Final Map.

Final Plan Review

After the Planning Commission completes their tentative map review, applicants may proceed to prepare the Final Map documents, construction drawings, etc. that are needed to obtain final approval.

The City Council shall review and approve the Final Map(s). The staff review is thorough on the final map and one can save time by making sure that everything needed is complete when submitted, especially information for the City Engineer.

Development Agreement

A Development Agreement may be required at the discretion of either the Planning Director or Planning Commission. The Development Agreement will apply to the entire project. City Staff can provide copies of the Development Agreement Form.
